

Communication Design Program

Available Position:

The Communication Design Program at Mahidol University International College is currently seeking a faculty member with teaching and professional experience in graphic design / communication design areas, especially in digital and online communication, responsive design, design technology, and/or related fields.

The Program:

The Communication Design Program at Mahidol University International College is committed to providing opportunities for world-class design education in Thailand. The curriculum is designed to promote creative thinking, problem solving, and innovation and aims to produce professional designers who have design skills in diverse contexts emphasizing the design process, including research, ideation, revision, and criticism. Graduates also embrace the core values of the university, applying their design skills for positive social contributions.

The College:

Mahidol University International College is globally recognized as an International Liberal Arts College with a mission to inspire innovation, foster human potential, and create new knowledge through the integration of arts and sciences in an international environment, ultimately resulting in education, research, and services to serve the needs of society and benefit humankind.

Requirements:

- Possesses at least three years of teaching at the undergraduate level and at least five years of professional work experience in graphic design / communication design areas, especially in digital and online communication, responsive design, design technology, and/or related fields.
- Holds at least a Master's / Master of Fine Arts degree and possibly a Doctoral degree in graphic design / communication design areas and / or related fields of study.
- Committed to providing an international teaching and learning environment for students with great initiative, engaging students in creative thinking and critical dialogue.

- Experienced in creating and delivering progressive design and technology curricula.
- Demonstrates flexibility and professionalism in being a team player and possesses leadership qualities.
- Capable of academically advising students enrolled in the program, as well as providing guidance to seniors who are developing their thesis projects.
- Intends to conduct research and / or produce creative academic work in areas related to research interests and / or teaching.
- Willing to take on additional responsibilities in the program, division, and at the college level and serve as an advocate for the program.

Interested candidates should send their cover letter and CV to Ms.Yanin Somsri, Human Resources Officer, e-mail: yanin.som@mahidol.ac.th