

Media and Communication Program

Available Position:

The Media and Communication Program at Mahidol University International College is currently seeking faculty members with teaching and professional experience in 1) media production with a specialization in the area of digital video production 2) digital media and digital journalism 3) integrated marketing communication. The successful candidate will be required to deliver one or more fields within the major concentrations: creative content, digital journalism and integrated marketing communication.

The Program:

The Media and Communication Program at Mahidol University International College is committed to providing opportunities for world-class media education in Thailand. We seek to position students to succeed in today's disruptive and convergent media environment through the integration of theory and practice that establishes a base of interdisciplinary knowledge combining arts, humanities, communication, and storytelling that ensures a working application of media technology. The curriculum aims to enhance students' abilities to communicate artistically and with intent, to use media innovations to benefit society and to shape identities and communities, while working from a global perspective with diverse groups of people.

The College:

Mahidol University International College is globally recognized as an International Liberal Arts College with a mission to inspire innovation, foster human potential, and create new knowledge through the integration of arts and sciences in an international environment, ultimately resulting in education, research, and services to serve the needs of society and benefit humankind.

Key Responsibilities:

- To engage in teaching, research (creative work), and academic service
- To serve as academic advisor to students, advise thesis projects, and support internship opportunities for students

- To develop course materials that align with courses' aims and objectives, program's learning outcomes, and university's graduate attributes
- To work collaboratively with colleagues in the Media and Communication Program and to contribute to the running of the program and division
- To liaise with Program Director about student experiences regarding common issues raised by students or to alert them to concerns about individual students

Requirements:

- A PhD in Media and Communication or related field
- Strong research and publication record in leading international academic journals

Interested candidates should send their cover letter and CV to Ms. Nunnapan Puathanawat, Program Director of Media and Communication Program (nunnapan.pua@mahidol.ac.th)